“ I’m so sorry to see this! When I think of Kelly, I’ll always remember him as the toddler who would sneak out of his house and run to our house to dump out the toy box—before Becky was close behind to catch him. As he ran passed my mom, he’d always say, “Howdy, Mommy!” (He assumed that was her given name.). And, he loved looking at Cornwallis, our bird, but he called him “Cornlollis.”

I’m so terribly sorry for your loss! Love and prayers! I’ll always remember that precious little blonde-haired boy!

“ Kelly and I were best childhood buddies. We loved playing match box cars under his house or up on the flats. My heart is broken for the family.
