“ I just found this obituary. Loretta was a sweet young bride when I was a teenager. She and Paul were the perfect couple. After they had Paul, air, I ran to her every Sunday morning to hold her baby until Sunday School started.

She was so sweet to have let e held her baby. Loretta, I am so sorry you are gone from your family, but Heaven certainly welcomed a sweet lady from this earthly place. You were a true a Christian.

Loretta, I just notice your Obituary this morning and thought I'd write a few words. First, I'm so sorry but since we moved to Wise, I never know when someone is sick. I had no clue you had pasted away. I know you're in Heaven with our Father and all your other family members that's gone on before you. I'll never forget you, as you directed our singing at the Stonega Baptist Church. Although I couldn't sing I was in the Choir while my aunt Adeline Fannon played the piano. She's in Heaven with you also. You were a very kind and Godly lady and you'll always be missed. I look forward to seeing you and all my family that's gone on before me, when God calls me Home! R.I.P Loretta!

“ I was so happy to share grandmotherhood with Loretta. She already had grandbabies when our first together came along. We shared, Rachel, Chelsea and Kayla, Glen and Michele's girls. I learned a lot about being a good grandmother from her.

I never heard Loretta say anything bad about another. If she didn't like you you would never know it from how she treated you. Always a lovely graceful lady.

“ Loretta was always gentle, yet very good at anything. My memories are on her leading the singing and doing whatever was needed in church. I admired and wanted to follow her example. We would talk about our mobility issues. The last time I saw her in Food City, we agreed walker were not good. I will cherish my memories of Loretta. I love her and her family.Praying for you all
