“ I worked with Lou up at Buster Brown. She was a very good friend and co worker. Lou was a wonderful warm lady, and it was a joy to know her and work with her. I am saddened to hear of her passing. My thoughts and prayers with her family. Sandy Ramsey!

“ Louella was like a sister to me. I met her in 1970 when I was pregnant with our only daughter, Candace. I met her through my cousin Dru Dizney, and she and I had a life long friendship from then on. I think back at the times we spent together cooking out in their yard. We were together nearly every evening crocheting, drinking coffee and listening to music etc. Thank you for teaching me how to crochet and make afghans together. We did everything together, and when Phyllis came in we spent lots of time with her. Phyllis would come in every year and she loved you my friend. Later on I remember when you told me she was pregnant again. You were shocked when you found out. I said what do you want? She said another boy of course. I'd say I bet it's a girl and she'd say, nope I don't want a girl. I just had to aggravate her about it being a girl. Well she had a boy and I was in the delivery room with her. I said when the baby was born I was going to be the first person to touch him. She said no you won't, I will. But when he came out instead of putting him on her stomach, they placed him in a nursery bed sorta back near Dr Manoharon. I went over and touched Michael and said I told you I would be the first to touch him and she just laughed. 🤔🤔

Candy loved Michael the moment she seen him. I believe he did her too. They grew up together and Candy and Michael was with us everywhere we went. I have so many wonderful memories with Louella, my cousins wife, my best friend and my Sister in Christ. I will always miss you Lou, but I know you are not sick anymore. You're happier than you've ever been up it here with your Heavenly Father, all the sisters and brothers than have gone on before you, especially your older sister Snook! You have such a wonderful family and I always thought the world of them. I hope you have seen Candy and Phyllis since you got there! I'll see you again when God calls me Home!! I Love You so very much Lou!! ❤️🙏🙏
